Officein Union Passenger Depot NEW YORK, June 26.

The steamer Champion has arrived from Aspinwall. No news. Newbern (N. C.) advices of the 22d, state that deserters from Wilmington report two rebel iron clads with five inches of plating on eighteen inches of wood, mounting heavy guns, about ready to make a raid on the blockading squadron. They are about the size of the first Merrimac, and lay very deep in the water, and only able to make three or four miles per hour. Wilmington is very strongly fortified, and a small force can hold it against great

The rebel secretary of war has ordered all the North Carolina troops into other states for immediate service, on account of the growing dissatisfaction among them. Georgia and South Carolina troops are to take their place in this state. The women and children on Cape Hatteras banks, numbering some 1,000, are in a very destitute condition, and threatened with starvation. Every man and boy there capable of bearing arms is voluntarily doing military duty in defence of the Union. Aid for their families is hoped for from the north.

The fortications in this department are being made impregnable. General Foster has tendered to General Dix and the authorities at Washington, the services of all the nine months men in this department, who are ready to move at a moment's notice. CAIRO, June 26. Special to Chicago Journal.-The steam. er Minnenaba arrived this morning. She left Yazoo Landing on Sunday evening, and Young's Point on Monday morning.

There had been a cessation of hostilities on Thursday and Friday, or nearly so, but on Saturday a furious cannonading was commenced, continuing all day, and also all day Sunday. It had not been resumed Monday morning when the boat left Young's Point.

The passengers concur in the opinion that it was a general engagement, but no and no particulars are known.

ing, as the steamers Prima Donna, Kentucky and Strader were passing down the river, loaded with commissary stores, and when they had reached a point twenty miles below Helena, known as Cypress Bend, they were fired into by rebels on the shore, notwithstanding they were convoyed by two tin clad gunboats and one of General Ellet's boats. The rebels numbered two or three hundred, and had six pieces of artillery. The steamer Prima Donna had her steam pipe cut at almost the first fire, and, in her disabled condition, drifted on a bar, where she was a fixed target, and the rebels made the most of their opportunity, completely riddling her. A number of persons on board were killed and wounded. She finally swung round into the stream, and the Strader helped her off. One man was also killed on the Kentucky, a cannon ball striking him full in the breast. The boat | Chic. go to Boston, ..... 22 25 belonging to the Marine Brigade was struck several times, but the extent of the damage done is unknown. The gunboats immediately opened upon the rebels in fine style, and they must have beat a hasty retreat,

"Considerable reinforcements have been sent to Gen. Knipe, who will defend what we now hold of the Cumberland Valley." Another Harrisburg dispatch, dated 10 o'clock last evening, says: "The rebels appear to have come to a stand-still, Our troops are advantageously posted. There

HOUSE TO RENT,

DAILY GAZETTE.

BY TELEGRAPH.

REPORTED FOR THE DAILY GAZETTE. BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE.

Officein Union Passenger Depot NEW YORK, June 26. The steamer Champion has arrived from

Aspinwall. No news. Newbern (N. C.) advices of the 22d, state that deserters from Wilmington report two rebel iron clads with five inches of plating on eighteen inches of wood, mounting heavy guns, about ready to make a raid on the blockading squadron. They are about the size of the first Merrimac, and lay very deep in the water, and only able to make three or four miles per hour Wilmington is very strongly fortified, and a small force can hold it against great odda. In the vicinity of Wilmington, near the borders of North Carolins, a large number of soldiers and conscripts are entrenched and successfully resisting the rebel authority, having had three engagements already.

take their place in this state.

The women and children on Cape Hatteras banks, numbering some 1,000, are in a very destitute condition, and threatened with starvation. Every man and boy there capable of bearing arms is voluntarily doing military duty in defence of the Union Aid for their families is hoped for from the north.

The fortications in this department are being made impregnable. General Foster has tendered to General Dix and the authorities at Washington, the services of all the nine months men in this department, who are ready to move at a moment's notice.

CAIRO, June 26. Special to Chicago Journal,—The steamer Minnenaha arrived this morning. She left Yazoo Landing on Sunday evening, and Young's Point on Monday morning.

There had been a cessation of hostilities on Thursday and Friday, or nearly so, but on Saturday a furious caunonading was commenced, continuing all day, and also all day Sanday. It had not been resumed Monday morning when the boat left Young's Point. The passengers concur in the opinion that it was a general engagement, but no boat had come across to Young's Point, and no particulars are known.

It is said the army is determined to have its Fourth of July in Vicksburg. At about nine c'elock, on Monday mornng, as the steamers Prima Donna, Kentucky and Strader were passing down the river, loaded with commissary stores, and when they had reached a point twenty miles below Helena, known as Cypress Bend, they were fired into by rebels on the shore, notwithstanding they were convoyed by two tin clad gunboats and one of General Ellet's boats. The rebels numbered two or three hundred, and had six pieces of artillery. The steamer Prima Donna had her steam pipe cut at almost the first fire, and, in her disabled condition, drifted on a bar, where she was a fixed target, and the rebels made the most of their opportunity, completely riddling her. A number of persons on board were killed and wounded. She finally awang round into the stream, and the Strader helped her off. One man was also killed on the Kentucky, a cannon ball striking him full in the breast. The boat belonging to the Marine Brigade was struck several times, but the extent of the damage done is unknown. The gunboats immediately opened upon the rebels in fine style, and they must have beat a hasty retreat, as none of them were to be seen half an hour after, when the Minnehaha passed up.

NEW YORK, June 26. A Harrisburg special to the Herald, last night, says:
The enemy is advancing slowly. Our troops are cutting down trees, fences, &c., and parricading the road to Carlisle. The rebels say they will destroy the crops in the Cumberland Valley, and have already done so to a great extent. Two rebel officers were taken prisoners to-day.

"All the drinking salcons in Harrisburg have been closed by the mayor.

"Considerable reinforcements have been sent to Gen. Knipe, who will defend what we now hold of the Cumberland Valley." Another Harrisburg dispatch, dated 10 o'clock last evening, says: "The rebels appear to have come to a stand-still. Our croops are advantageously posted. There are no reports of fighting to night. The telegraph is still open to Carlisle. Ewell's

Artemus Ward on the Peace Movs-

headquarters are at Shippensburg."

Artemus Ward says he has been to see Jeff. Davis about making "peas." On being ushered into the "organ" presence, the following conversation ensued:
"I come, sez 1," on a mission of peas.

Your copperhead friends in the north will soon cease to exist, of things can't be arranged to prohibit the Unionisters from tearin' the constituoshun."
"What terms do you offer?" queired

" Well," sez I, " I air instructed by the copperheads (Wood & Co., you know) 2 propose anything which will most disgrace the north. You ken take your niggers all over creation incloodin' Jarsey."

"Would that be constitueshunal?" asked J. D., with a sly twinkle ov his eye.
"O," sez I, "its a matter of no difference how much you chaps brake that arti-kil to sever the Union, so that the republikans are stopt from doin' the same to keep the sed Union together. That's what your hang, we might com to terms." "Is thar nothin else you cood wish?"

"Wal, yes—give us all the territories."
"Nothin else?" "Throw in 2 or 3 free states—New York, Penusylvania and Massachusetts, furin "Nothin' else?" stuns. "Yes-in footer we must have all we ask."

"J. Davis," sez I, "I hev no doubt your plan some. But your democratic friends

"I know," says J. D., "and that's what keeps our spirits up. We air waitin' for them to get in power, & then we expect to get all we ask. And yet us chivalry considered 'em the contemptiblest set of dirt eartin' cowards in the north. We cond buy 'em all for a confed shinplaster." These was my opinion, 2.

Disposition of Straw. My plan for more than 25 years has been this, viz:-to get it all in my stock yards in some way. For the last six years, I have stacked all my grain in a yard of sufficient size, adjoining my other stock yards. In threshing, I am not particular where I run the straw, provided there is a good place to stack it well. The latter is a job I seldom trust to boys, or careless, awkward men. I aim to have the stack no wider than can be topped out well, and any length, according to the amount to be put in it. Make the middle wider than the bottom. #### The Milwaukee Convention.

There is not an hour of the twenty-four, each day, when the crack of a rebel's rifle or the bursting of one of their shells does not kill a Union soldier. THE PEACE MOVEMENT .-- Peace with the rebellious south at the present time, means disunion and dismemberment-nothing less. This must be clear to all who have any knowledge of the purpose and deter-mination of the rulers of the confederate states. They neither desire, nor will they admit the full accomplishment of all they have contemplated—that is, a separation of the republic from the Atlantic to the Pacific, oa a line drawn by themselves .-There may be those who are ready to concede these insolent demands—so favorable to our enemies and so minous to ourselves -but we are not of them, we prefer one country, one flag, and one destiny.

The shortest way to au honorable and durable peace lies through the path of victory. To render any peace we can now make permanent and secure, it must be firmly based on success, and the overpowering strength of our arms. Hence we are in favor of such a prosecution of the war as will make our armies everywhere tri umphant, and effectually crush all further efforts to resist the authority of the constitution and laws in the insurrectionary states. If this can not be effected, we are perfectly well aware that then the next best thing must be done. It will be soon enough to join in a peace cry when no other alternative is left. Grant against Vicksburg: "Let us climb the parapet and see the siege by moonlight. In front of us, beyond the enemy's works, but hidden from us, les the city of Vickeburg. Look carefully, and you can distinguish the spires of the court house and two or three churches. The rebels had a signal station on the former when we came, but our shells made it too warm for them, and they withdrew. The mortars are playing to night, and they are well worth seeing. We watch a moment, and in the direction of Young's Point, beyond the city, suddenly up shoots a flash of light, and in a moment the pon-derous shell, with its fuse glowing and sparkling, rises slowly from behind the bluffs; up, up it goes, as though mounting to the zenith; over it comes towards us, down through its flight trajectory into the city, and explodes with a snock that jars he ground for miles. There are women and tender children where those shells fail. But war is war.

"Sherman's eight-inch monsters are grumbling far away on the right. Nearer, McPherson's too are playing—we can even see the cannoneers beside them at each flash. The last trip was made towards Mechanicsburg, where Joe Johnston was reported to be massing a large force. They secured a picket guard frym the enemy, the lieuten-ant of which had taken refuge, from the falling rain, in a house. They learned from the prisoners that a company of rebel cavalry were at a house near by. They pressed forward and came in front of about 400 confederates instead of 50. They were surprised, however, and unprepared for an attack, and received a volley from the federal carbines. Then our men pressed in upon them with pistols and sabres. Many saddles were emptied. FREDERIKC, June 26-9 p. m Special to N. Y. Times. I have just re-turned from the vicinity of South Monntain battle field, 13 miles distant from here From persons from Boonesboro, this after learn that the rebels have all left that place. Andrews' division of Long-street's corps arrived there Wednesday night, and encamped. They left yesterday morning, taking the direction of Waynes-boro, towards Chambersburg. The force is estimated at from 7,000 to 10,000, infantry, cavalry and artillery, accompanied by a large wagon train. The whole of Longstreet's corps had crossed the Potomac, and was advancing in different directions into Pennsylvania. There were but few rebel troops at Hagerstown, yesterday, all having gone to Helena. Lee and staff are on this side of the river.

New York, June 26. Herald's Harrisburg specials.—Citizens are organizing to serve in rifle pits. The ebel advance still continues in the vicinity of Carlinle.

Rebel prisoners report that Ewell has 28,000 rebel infantry, 5,000 cavalry, and 20 pieces of artillery; 6,000 men with eight cannon have been sent to Merceraburg, Pennsylvania, half of which went to Mc Connellsburg. It is reported that Hooker's right wing is in the vicinity of Hagers.

Carlisle dispatches to the Herald last evening, report that it is evident that the rebels are doing all they can to mystify us as to their movements, in order to prevent us from concentrating anywhere. Eight hundred rebels are encamped at Mount Rock. Rebel scouts visited Plainfield and Gleason's Station last night.

Special to the Times, from Harrisburg, June 26th .- The main force of the enemy appears to have balted back of Chambers ourg. A large number are concontrating n the Mountain Pass and evidently waiting for reinforcements, fearing to proceed too far this way with Hooker in their rear.

Yesterday two rebel cavalrymen were taken near Chambersburg. They assert 28,000 infantry, 5,000 cavalry and 20 pieces of ordnance were not far from that place. The rebel column at Merceraburg numbers 6,000 infantry, with eight pieces of artillery. Gettysburgh has been occupied by an entire division of rebels, who strike out in different directions from that place. The enemy has not yet entered Carlisle, al-

It is sufficient to say that the movements of our army have been made with promptness and rapidity, and a feeling of confidence prevails. It is asserted that Richmond is held by not over 4,000 men. The Richmond Despatch of the 23d says that Vicksburg must fall without the inter-position of a miracle. From the Wisconsin Fermer. Disposition of Straw.

My plan for more than 25 years has been this, viz:-to get it all in my stock yards in some way. For the last six years, I have stacked all my grain in a yard of sufficient size, adjoining my other stock yards. In threshing, I am not particular where I run the straw, provided there is a good place to stack it well. The latter is a job I seldom trust to boys, or careless, awk-ward men. I aim to have the stack no wider than can be topped out well, and any length, according to the amount to be put in it. Make the middle wider than the bottom. Clean away in some manner all the chaff and straw that falls between the machine and stack. Keep a good hayknife, and that in good order. Cut down about ten feet at a time. There will be few, if any, frozen portions to hinder, or break forks.

With my horses and sled I pim to haul a load every day through the winter, (large or small, according to circumstances) into my yards. I have gates leading from my stack yard through the stock yards. As the team goes through the yards, the straw is rolled off by the sides of the sled. It is oaded and unloaded in less time than picthing off from a stack adjoining a yard, and then carrying it about in a fork, as dry straw is slippery to handle, after being moved from where it is pressed in the stack. In this way the straw comes clean and tresh every day to the horses, cattle and sheep. In add tion to the other feed they get, they work this over through the day. At night, a portion of this straw that he eft, which is in front of the sheds, is moved under them for bedging. In this way it is or anything else are bedded.

It pays me three times for moving it into ny yards. First, for feed; second, for edding; and lastly, for manure. I am an out and out anti-straw burner-a practice which is robbing rising generations of their daily bread. So much crowds upon my mind upon this subject of straw saving that it is difficult to stop.

If this is deemed worthy a place in the Farmer, I may, at some future time, call up the subject. LEWIS CLARK. BELOIT, April 7, 1863.

Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune. Investor of Georgia by Colonei Mont-gomery.

HILTON HEAD, June 17, 1863. Early on the morning of the 11th inst., Col. Montgomery left St. Simons Island, where his brigade is now encamped, to present his compliments to the rebels of pile; so considerable indeed, that he actu-Georgia, having the week before sent them ally built a snug little two story house, with-

This force consisted of five companies of the 2d South Carolina, eight companies of the 54th Massachusetts, Col. Shaw, all negro, and the 3d Rhode Island battery, Capt. Brayton. The gunboat John Adams, Capt. Smith, and the transports Sentinel and Harriet A. Weed, constituted the fleet.

n Georgia, to the village of Darien, which s said to have contained before the war some 2,000 inhabitants, most of whom were wedded to the rebel cause,
As the John Adams approached the village she poured a constant shower of shot and shell into the woods, along the shore, and into the town, as she came up to the wharf. The few "crackers" and paupers remaining in the place ran frightened and terror atriken in every direction, and when Col. Montgomery landed his troops, he found not a single armed inhabitant to dispute his right. Through the activity of some of the negro soldiers, a few of these poor "white-trash" were caught, who told the story of there being a strong cavalry force within five miles of the place, which may or may not have been true. At any rate, Col. Montgomery, from the information obtained from them, did not desist from his original purpose, but marched nearly his whole force into the town, postsentries and prepared to do work. In a few hours all the valuable property he could find, of a movable character, was transferred to his boats. A large class of second-class furniture, considerable live stock, horses, cows and sheep, and rice and corn sufficient to feed his command for at least a month, was thus disposed of.

The inhabitants driven out and the town sacked, the next step in Col. Montgomery's programme was to burn and destroy everya few moments the principal buildings were all in flames, and, a strong south-west wind prevailing at the time, the whole village was soon enshrouded in flame and smoke, and before the expedition returned nct a single tenantable habitation remained Darien destroyed, Major Corwin of the 2d South Carolina took the Harriet A. Weed and proceeded up the river in search of a rebel craft he had heard of through some negroes. When four miles up the stream he found the report to be correct, and overhauled and captured a copperbottomed schooner, a large flat-boat, 80 bales of long staple cotton, estimated to be worth $30,000. Major Corwin was absent from Darien two hours, and when he returned with his prize, was received by the Massachusetts and South Carolina negro soldiers with nine tremendous cheers These hold, rapid and successful expeditions of Col. Montgomery are spreading terror throughout the entire coast, and are compelling the rebels to abandon their rice and cotton fields, and all the smaller villages which would be at all likely to be visited by him.

ENROLLING IN LEBANON—CITIZENS UN-DER ARMS.—Last Wednesday morning a company of soldiers having been sent to Lebanon, Dodge county, to assist in finish ing the enrollment of that town, a squad of soldiers accompanied the enrolling officer. Soon after crossing the river they met sentinel, who turned about as soon as he met the soldiers and went back post haste to the German settlement.

The boys were told, after getting out a few miles, that they would have trouble, as the whole town was out and armed. They kept on, however, and soon began to see men going towards their usual rendezvous They expected warm work and prepared for it.

They soon came on a crowd of two or three hundred mee, mostly armed. Many of them ran as soon as the soldiers came in sight to hide their arms in the grass. The soldiers went in among them and were asked all sorts of questions, but having been instructed to answer no questions they kept their own councils.

The enrolling officer went at his duty, and performed it all day without molesta tion. Thus matters stand at the time of going to press. That nothing but the pres ence of armed soldiers can keep those into the front and north of Baltimore. Heavy sane and ignorant men from committing murder, no man can longer have any doubte In this case, as in all others, prevention will prove the best care.—Home League.

"HIS SOUL IS MARGHING ON."-A spiritual medium at the east has intelligence from the spheres that "Stonewall" Jackson, since his death, has become a with old John Brown on very intimate tarms.

A rebel merchant at Nassau writes to his brother at Columbia, Georgia, that confederate money is nearly worthless; that he had recently bought some of it for four cents on the dollar; that the best that can be done with it is eight dollars for one in gold; and that very soon it would not be worth the paper it is printed on.

Two deserters leaped from a railroad train between Pittsburg and Harrisburg, some days since, and managed to escape. They were hand-cuffed together, and that all eaten over before horses, hoge, sheep, they escaped with their lives is truly wonderful. How to Build A House .- An honest old German of Brooklyn, who, by picking up bones about the streets, had saved up enough to purchase a cheap lot in the sub urbs of that city, left the streets as a picker, and commenced as a trader-buying the bones of the chiffoniers and selling them to the bone black makers. He drev his handcart filled with bones, twice a day, purchased from the pickers. At night be would cross the ferry with his empty cart, to his home-not exactly empty, however, for it always contained at least one brick, which he was never at loss to find in the streets of New York. His daily brick was deposited on his lot, and in the course of time Jacob waxed rich enough to think of building a house on his lot. The bricks New Family Grocery Store, had, by this time, become a considerable out being obliged to call on the bricklayer for a single one. Old Jacob certainly got a cheap house. After he built his house as he still brought over his cart nightly and was not in want of bricks he brough over one or more cobble atc .cs at every trip. So that by the time the street was ordered to be paved, be saved the expense The expedition ready, the order was of paving stone, furnishing his stock on given to sail through Dubois Sound, and hand. Now, this old man thought it no up the Altamaha river, the largest stream sin to pick up an isolated brick or stone they belonged to no one. To have taken a brick from a pile, or any stone from s heap, would have been, in Jacob's eyes stealing, and the old man would rather have gone home empty. No. Jacob's house is more honest than many a Fifth Avenue brown stone front.

CARD PHOTOGRAPHS, PLAIN AND COLOR-ED, NOT TO BE SURPASSED IN THE STATE.-Thousands have said to us, if you could produce the various colors so desirable in the card pictures, you have the art perfected. We are happy to announce that this object has been attained, and are now making this beautiful styles of pictures, and will not hesitate in saying that we are making the hest pictures that are made in this city. Specimens of our work can be seen at our room. Pictures of all kinds warranted to give satisfaction or no charges je27dawlt. J. A. TICE.

Officen.-We gave an account of a riot in Chicago, Thursday, in which two enrolling officers were mobbed and beaten. One of them, a Mr. Carter, had his skull badly fractured, and little or no hope is entertained of his recovery. The officers of the government are so unsafe in discharging their duties in relation to the draft that the provost marshal of that city is in communication with the war department about declaring martial law in Chicago. It will necessarily come to that whenever the laws are resisted by combinations too strong for the local authorities.

New Potaroes .- If you want a good mess of new putatoes for to morrow at 40 cents per peck, call at G. Bornheim's grocery store on Main street.

CAUSE AND EFFECT .- The New York Herald says the cause of our recent disastrous defeat at Winchester was in the fact that " ballroy is one of the political gener als, appointed not for his military abilities, but for his violent abolition opinions."-We have altogether too many such leaders. It is crimical in the government to place brave men under such leaders-it is little short of permeditated butchery .- Madison Patriot. There was nothing criminal in a commander-in chief who fooled away untold millions of money in brilliant pageants and destructive idleness on the banks of the Potomac, losing the best opportunity for ecushing the rebellion ever afforded, or sacrificed thousands of lives in the swamps of the Chickahominy. Of course not!

was the sickness of the orerator.

The Rev. Juo. Weitzle will preach in the German language at the Presbyterian Church, on Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. MILITARY MEETING .- There will be a meeting of the members of the new milital ry company of this city, at the Court Room, this evening, for the purpose of deciding in regard to the uniform, and transacting such other business as may be brought before it. Mr. L. W. Buckingham, an army correspondent of the New York Herald, was, on the 22d inst., in Virginia, killed under the following circumstances: He was coming from Aldie with news of the cavalry fight, and, when five miles below that point, his horse, which stumbled and threw him off, breaking his neck and killing him in-

We would call the attention of all lovers of music to a new instrument which we have just received called the HARMONIUM, which bid fair to take the place of the ordinary Mo-led-u. It has two set of reeds and the power of three common Melodeons. It is increased in a strong, near case of tosewood or Blackwalaut, and is just the thing for the these becture Rooms, &c. It is praise by ev-ery one that has examined it. Come and see it, two doors west of the Post Office.
